I wanted to confirm receipt of your email. I appreciated your comments and questions. You raise a number of important issues. I always make myself available for robust dialogue, so feel free to reach out and I am happy to meet or have a conversation on the phone. My personal mobile number is below. It is my understanding that staff will respond to your questions like they did your previous list of questions from your neighborhood meeting.

Regarding EPS, they provided specific edits to the documents, which was very helpful. From my perspective, I was very appreciate of all the comments received, and stated so several times. The only entity I called out was EPS. I hope you can understand why we perhaps singled them out, however it was not intentional by any means.

In any case, happy to have a dialogue.
